
Stacey L. Reicherzer, PhD, Licensed Professional Counselor-Supervisor

Dr. Stacey Reicherzer is a transgender counselor and educator who knows a thing or two about overcoming adversity.

Her survival story, and an avowed commitment that others shouldn't have to experience what she had as a child and young adult, led her to pursue her Counseling career. Over the years, Dr. Stacey has treated clients and trained other mental health professionals to address a number of trauma concerns that center in Otherness- abusive 'coming out' stories, humiliating forms of exclusion, hate crimes, and most recently, work with ancestral trauma for the descendents of extreme hardship and violence.

She now serves a growing community of people of different genders, sexual identities, racial and ethnic communities, religious groups, and class backgrounds.

And she's pretty entertaining, as well.

Key Topics

Personal Empowerment and Self-Confidence

Diversity Issues and Otherness

Trauma, Bullying, Discrimination, Isolation, Anxiety, Panic Treatment Modalities- EMDR, Expressive Therapies

LGBT Mental Health, particularly Transgender Experiences

Leadership Development and Organizational Communication (including HR issues)

Higher Education Teaching, Supervision, Accreditation, and Assessment Practices

Imposter Phenomenon and Self-Sabotage

Spirituality

Rewrite Your Story

And this time, you make the rules. Discover how to free yourself from someone else's definition of your life.

“Anyone who has ever felt different will benefit from this book, connecting with Stacey as she courageously shares her own experiences and those of people like us who have been Othered. You will feel that you are with a friend, counselor, teacher, and mentor, as she expertly guides you on a new journey of healing and growth.”

—John F. Marszalek III, PhD, author of “Coming Out of the Magnolia Closet”

In The Healing Otherness Handbook, Dr. Stacey merges her snappy street-smart style with a dose of mindfulness-based cognitive therapy. You'll learn:

The reasons that being cast out are as real to us as physical pain.

The Rules of Fear that are instilled and maintained by living a life as Other.

Four Tools for Change to address your fear: Clarity, Compassion, Creativity, and Sass.

Strategies to address ongoing beliefs that your 'inner oppressor' uses to keep you believing you're not good enough.

Media and Speaking Kit

A/V Requests and Presentation Delivery Information

- Please provide a wireless handheld microphone
- Any audience seating configuration is acceptable
- Dr. Stacee will arrive 45 minutes before the program starts, unless directed otherwise
- Please confirm in advance if you would like Dr. Stacee to include time for Q&A in her presentation
- Please confirm in advance how many books you would like to order along with allocated time for book signing

Dr. Stacee travels from Chicago, Illinois.

Photographs and videos are permitted with copies of files provided to Dr. Stacee after the event. Presentation recordings may not be shared unless with express written consent from Dr. Stacee.

For all media and speaking inquiries, please contact drstacee@mac.com

Website: www.drstacee.com

Facebook: Dr. Stacee Reicherzer

LinkedIn: Dr. Stacee Reicherzer

Twitter: @drstacee